SCOUTING THE BULLS

Buffalo is the second of two Football Bowl Subdivision teams that Gardner-Webb will play this season ... The Bulls are also the second FBS bowl participant on the 2009 schedule for GWU, along with NC State ... Former Gardner-Webb offensive guard and assistant coach Lee Chambers is currently the running backs coach at UB ... Chambers played on the Runnin' Bulldogs 2003 Big South Conference championship squad (8-4), and was a starter from 2003-2005 ... The Bulls are led in 2009 so far by Greensboro (N.C.) Grimsley product Zach Maynard at quarterback. The sophomore signal caller has completed 100-of-161 passes for 1,234 yards, eight touchdowns and seven interceptions ... All-America candidate Naaman Roosevelt leads the receiving corps, while junior Ike Nduka (172 yards, 22 carries vs. Central Michigan) appears to be the top running back for the Bulls ... Safeties Mike Newton (5-11, 200) and Davonte Shannon (6-0, 193) are each FBS All-America candidates for Buffalo ... The Bulls are coached by former Nebraska quarterback Turner Gill, who led the Bulls to a win in last season's MAC Championship Game, an 8-6 record and a berth in the International Bowl vs. Connecticut.

2009 GARDNER-WEBB FOOTBALL GAME NOTES

HEAD COACH STEVE PATTON

Steve Patton has averaged nearly seven wins per season in his 12 years with the Gardner-Webb program, and has the Bulldogs in strong shape again in 2009. The Oneonta, Ala., native became the first coach in Big South history to record 100 career wins in 2007, and now has 110 victories in his 17 seasons of coaching on the collegiate level. Patton has recorded a 80-55 record during his 13 seasons at Gardner-Webb, giving him more wins than any coach to lead the program before him.

The Runnin' Bulldogs sent receiver Dobson Collins to the NFL (San Francisco) in 2008, marking the second season in a row that a GWU player had either signed a free agent deal or been drafted by the league.

Collins and linebacker Jeffery Williams earned All-America honors and Williams was named Big South Defensive Player of the Year – following up strongly on his Freshman of the Year Award from the previous season.

In 2007, Brian Johnston earned consensus All-America honors and was drafted in the seventh round by Kansas City. Linebacker Mario Brown and cornerback Cedric McGowan were named honorable mention All-America by The Sports Network, Williams earned Big South Freshman of the Year honors after setting a new pace with 120 total hits in 2007.

Patton, a two-time Big South Coach of the Year, directed the 'Dogs to a 6-5 record in 2006, the ninth winning season in his 11-year tenure in Boiling Springs. All five of those losses came at the hands of teams ranked at some point during the season as members of the Division I FCS top-25 – including national champion Appalachian State.

The success of 2006 came with one of the youngest rosters in Division I, with 74 percent of the Bulldogs' team holding membership in either the freshman or sophomore class. Five of the team's six wins came against Division I competition, and Johnston was named Big South Defensive Player of the Year and a Division I FCS All-American by the Associated Press and Football Gazette. Linebacker Brown and center Kris King also earned All-America honors, with King accepting a roster spot for the U.S. National Team at the 2007 World Cup of Football in Japan.

Kicker Hunter Smith was named to the Division I FCS Athletic Director's Academic All-Star Team, and was highly decorated on and off the field – becoming the first student-athlete in Big South football history to earn All-Conference honors in four consecutive seasons.

GWU has played one of the toughest collections of teams in the Big South over the past four seasons. Of Gardner-Webb's five wins in 2004, two came against teams that were ranked in the NCAA Division I FCS top-25 at some point during the season, and four of the losses came against teams who capped top-25 seasons in November. The same can be said for 2005, as GWU fell in overtime to a top-15 squad, and dropped two more games to top-10 teams Furman and Hampton.

Patton has forged a solid program, winning 51 games at the Division I level. Since joining the Big South Conference in 2002, Gardner-Webb has gone 15-8 during five seasons of competition – with league titles won in 2002 and 2003 with undefeated ledgers.

Notable in terms of the strength of Gardner-Webb's non-conference schedule since 2004 is that 13 of the Bulldogs' last 18 non-league losses have come at the hands of either top-25 FCS teams or teams from the Bowl Championship Subdivision – including last season's 10-7 loss at eventual top-25 member Georgia Tech.

During Patton's tenure, 31 GWU players have earned All-America honors, and another 101 have earned All-Big South honors since 2002.

Gardner-Webb posted seven-straight winning seasons under Patton from 1997-2003, posting a strong 9-1 record and I-AA top-25 finish in both major polls in 2002. GWU was 7-4 in its first Division I season (2000), and forged an 8-3 record in Patton's first season – 1997 – marking the top turnaround of any school on the Division II level.

Patton has also served as a college head coach at North Greenville and Mars Hill. He has served as an assistant coach at The Citadel and his alma mater, Furman. Patton also has professional head coaching experience, most recently with the Arena Football League's Charlotte Rage in the early 1990s.

Patton and his wife, Debbie, have two daughters – Stetson and Shelby.

• Gardner-Webb won conference titles in 2002 and 2003.

THE GAME

Gardner-Webb will take on its second FBS opponent in the past three games on Saturday, October 10, traveling to face Buffalo at 3:30 pm ET. The game will air live on WGWG-FM (88.3), with Fabian Fuentes and Jared Pankhurst providing the call (wgwg.org). The game will also air on live television as part of the ESPN GamePlan package.

SERIES NOTES

First meeting.

AGAINST THE MAC

Gardner-Webb is 0-1 all-time against the Mid American Conference, having dropped a 36-14 decision at Ohio University on Sept. 1, 2007.

GO NORTH YOUNG MAN

Gardner-Webb is 3-0 in trips to the Northeastern corridor in its senior college history, winning games at No. 23 New Hampshire (2000), Morgan State (2004) and Stony Brook (2008).

FOLLOW THE LEADER

Senior quarterback Stan Doolittle (6-3, 224) has been sharp through this season's first four games, completing 85-of-136 passes for 925 yards and four touchdowns, and rushing for 107 yards and a pair of scores to help Gardner-Webb to its 3-1 start. The Ninety Six, S.C., native currently leads the Big South Conference in total offense (258.0 ypg), passing offense (231.2 ypg) and completion percentage (62.5 %). Doolittle has thrown two interceptions in 2009, but both have come on dropped/tipped passes.

STRONG RUSH DEFENSE TO BE TESTED AGAIN SATURDAY

Gardner-Webb has held nine of its last 15 opponents to less than 100 yards on the ground, and 13 of its last 18 opponents to less than 125 yards rushing – the most impressive streak of its kind since the program moved to Division I for the 2000 season. GWU has not allowed a 100-yard individual rusher in its last six games. Last season, GWU held its first six opponents to less than 100 yards on the ground – which included FBS member Georgia Tech (4th nationally in rushing). This season, Gardner-Webb ranks 26th nationally against the run, allowing 99.6 yards per game. NC State (112 yards) and option-based VMI (187 yards) are the only teams to top the century mark thus far. Buffalo is coming off a game against Western Division favorite Central Michigan that saw the Bulls rumble for 223 yards on 37 carries, with Ike Nduka carrying for a career-best 172 yards in that game.

ON THE TUBE

Gardner-Webb has not won a game on live television since defeating Charleston Southern, 29-25, on Oct. 26, 2007 in Boiling Springs (Sportsouth). GWU is 5-9 all-time when playing on television (since 2003).

YARD STICKS

- Gardner-Webb paced the Big South Conference with nine of its student-athletes named to this year's preseason All-Conference team, which was voted on by the league's head coaches and members of the media.
- Gardner-Webb has seven redshirt seniors on its preseason roster, and 19 total seniors.
- A total of 24 players on the 2009 roster, including redshirt juniors, have at least four years of college experience.
- Gardner-Webb will wrap up its longest road trip since moving to NCAA Division I in 2000 (four games).
- Gardner-Webb has received votes in the Sports Network FCS Top 25 poll in each of the past five weeks, marking the longest stretch of receiving votes for the program since the 2003 season (8-4 finish).
- Gardner-Webb is now 7-3 following open dates since moving up to Division I in 2000.
- Gardner-Webb's 11:30 am kickoff with Charleston Southern on October 17 (SportSouth) will mark the earliest start time for a home football game since the school moved to the Division I ranks.
- GWU will play six of its final seven games during daylight hours.
- Dobson Collins, an honorable mention FCS All-America selection in 2008, was waived on the final day of cuts by the San Francisco 49ers, but was one of eight players signed to the 49ers' practice squad.
- Senior corner Cedric McGowan (Greer, S.C.), a two-time All-Big South selection, will redshirt in 2009.

FRESHMAN PERFORMING WELL UP FRONT

One of the toughest positions in football is being manned by a true freshman this season at Gardner-Webb. Lyman, S.C., native Jamie Dunaway (6-4, 280) has started the first three games at left tackle for the Runnin' Bulldogs and, despite his youth, has performed very well. The former Byrnes (S.C.) High graded out above 82 percent in each of his first two starts, including an 84 percent grade at Western Carolina, and has logged 283 snaps at left tackle in four games.

PROFIT MARGIN

Through its first four games in 2009, Gardner-Webb ranks second in the nation (Football Championship Subdivision) in turnover margin, averaging an edge of +3.0 miscues per game. The Runnin' Bulldogs have forced 14 turnovers (five interceptions, nine fumbles), while turning it over just twice — two tipped-pass interceptions. GWU's lone turnover at VMI snapped a streak of 230 consecutive plays without a miscue.

THE BIG SOUTH NETWORK

All of Gardner-Webb's home football games, and all of the team's road games within league play, will appear live this season as part of the Big South Conference's revamped online video streaming service — The Big South Network. The subscription service is available at bigsouthsports.com, and brings the league's football into living rooms world wide.

DYNAMIC DUO

Veteran broadcaster Fabian Fuentes returns again to headline the Runnin' Bulldog Radio Network, handling play-by-play duties for Gardner-Webb football for his 12th season. The Jacksonville, Fla., native has earned some of his profession's top accolades during his career, which dates back to the early 1990s. Joining Fuentes in the booth for all 11 regular season games in 2009 will be Gardner-Webb alumnus Jared Pankhurst for his first full season. Pankhurst, also a Jacksonville, Fla., native, has served as the Bulldogs' sideline reporter, has handled spot play-by-play duty and has followed GWU football closely since arriving on campus in 2003. As usual, all Gardner-Webb games will be carried live on the University's 50,000-watt flagship station, WGWG (88.3). The games will also be available online via the station's website (wgwg.org).

BIG SOUTH'S FIRST STAR RETURNS TO LEAGUE SIDELINES

Gardner-Webb made a notable addition to its coaching staff recently, hiring the Big South Conference's first Offensive Player of the Year — former GWU quarterback Jeremy Martin — as a graduate assistant coach. The Middletown, R.I., native will coach the tight ends in 2009, and is a bright offensive mind who is very familiar with the team's offensive system. During his time in Boiling Springs, Martin finished as the program's second-leading passer, completing 633-of-1,175 career passes (54.0 percent) for 8,025 yards and 60 touchdowns. His career pass efficiency rating (121.97) is the best in school history among quarterbacks with at least 1,000 attempts. Martin earned the Big South's first Player of the Year trophy in style, passing for 2,166 yards and 17 touchdowns with only four interceptions in 2002. That effort helped Gardner-Webb to a 9-1 record and the Big South's first football championship — along with a final regular season ranking of #18 from The Sports Network and #19 from USAToday.

COACHING MOVES

Gardner-Webb alumnus Bryant Foster (3rd season) will be in charge of coaching the team's cornerbacks in 2009 ... Rusty Wright (1st season), who spent time most recently as an assistant coach at FBS member Miami (Ohio), will coach the Bulldogs' defensive line this season ... Veteran coach Mike Doolittle (3rd season) will serve as the team's offensive line coach in 2009, after spending the past two years in charge of the team's defensive front.

WILLIAMS STEPS IN FOR PRESEASON HONORS

Junior linebacker Jeffery Williams (6-0, 229) has picked up where he left off last season in the awards category, garnering preseason All-America honors from six different organizations and publications heading into 2009. The Frisco City, Ala., native has collected 264 career tackles in 26 games — and was also recently named to the preseason Buck Buchanan Award Watch List by the Sports Network. Williams, who was a two-way star at tiny Frisco City High in Alabama, led that state in tackles with 19.6 per game as a senior — and averaged 10.2 yards per carry for six touchdowns on offense. Williams ranks 20th in GWU history in career tackles. He has been strong vs. Football Bowl Subdivision opponents, averaging 8.5 tackles per game against four FBS foes — including 11 stops at Mississippi State in 2007.

NOT TO BE FORGOTTEN

A forgotten man last season for Gardner-Webb defensively was two-time All-America selection Mario Brown (6-2, 239, Sr.), who was granted a medical redshirt after suffering an injury prior to the Bulldogs' second game of the season. Brown, a native of Greenville, S.C., has returned to full speed since then — and earned preseason second-team All-America honors from the Sports Network in June. Brown was also named the league's top defensive player by The Sporting News this preseason. Brown (team-high 29 hits in 2009) reached the 250-tackle plateau at NC State, and has 257 career tackles in Boiling Springs.

EXPERIENCED DEPTH

Gardner-Webb, which had a roster made up of 74 percent underclassmen (freshmen, sophomores) in 2007, has finally gotten some age on its two-deep. Of the 60 total slots on the team's depth chart (offense, defense and special teams), 36 are manned by players in at least their third season in a senior college football program (60.0 percent).

SEASONED LINEBACKERS PACE DEFENSE

Gardner-Webb enters the 2009 season with one of the nation's most experienced, and talented, groups of linebackers. Preseason All-America selections Jeffery Williams (6-0, 229, Jr.) and Mario Brown (6-2, 240, RSr.) anchor that unit, combining with veterans Marty Patterson (6-3, 215, Jr.), Oluwadamilola Teniola (5-11, 227, Jr.) and Quan Jackson (5-11, 203, Sr.) to start 93 career games between them. The quintet, with at least 14 career starts each, has now compiled 889 tackles, 81 tackles for loss and 22 sacks during their collective careers in Boiling Springs. Williams, Brown and Patterson combined for 24 stops at VMI on Oct. 3.

GATES TOPS 100

Ryan Gates' leg has been productive since his arrival in Boiling Springs last August, and the All-America sophomore continued to build on his legacy in the season opener. The Newnan, Ga., native boomed all seven of his extra point attempts and connected on a perfect 3-of-3 field goals to score a Big South-record 16 points. That production earned Gates the league's Special Teams Player of the Week award. Gates, who set a new GWU freshman mark with 75 points en route to All-Conference honors in 2008, reached the century mark for his career in scoring at Western Carolina, booting a pair of field goals and three extra points. Gates leads the Big South with 36 points scored and field goals per game so far in 2009.

OTHER PRESEASON PROJECTIONS

Gardner-Webb, picked fourth by the Big South coaches/media, and first by Phil Steele's College Football Preview Magazine, was projected totally different by other publications. The Sporting News / Street & Smith's College Football Preview picked the Runnin' Bulldogs third in its preseason poll. Lindy's projected the 'Dogs as the fifth-place finisher in the seven-team Big South Conference. The Sporting News picked Liberty as its preseason favorite, while Lindy's went with Coastal Carolina.

THE GOODS

Defensive tackle Matt Goods (6-2, 285, Fr.) has been a virtual microwave for the Gardner-Webb defensive line in 2009, coming off the bench to record 18 tackles, a team-high 7.0 tackles for loss and 3.5 quarterback sacks. The East Orange, N.J., native prepped at Milford (N.Y.) Academy in 2008, and was rated the nation's No. 7 postgraduate defensive tackle prospect by Rivals.com, a national recruiting website. Goods earned his third Big South Conference Freshman of the Week award following the VMI game, registering six tackles, a tackle for loss and a fourth-quarter fumble recovery that set up Gardner-Webb's winning touchdown drive.

THIS WEEK IN THE BIG SOUTH CONFERENCE

In other Big South Conference action this week: Charleston Southern and Liberty are both idle; Stony Brook travels to North Dakota (2:00 pm); Presbyterian travels to Old Dominion (6:00 pm) and Coastal Carolina hosts VMI (7:00 pm).

POLLSTERS TAKING NOTICE

Gardner-Webb picked up 24 votes in the Sports Network FCS Top 25 poll this week, moving to 37th among FCS teams so far in 2009. GWU also picked up a season-best nine votes in the FCS Coaches Top 25 poll on Monday, ranking the 'Dogs 31st nationally. Gardner-Webb's last appearance in either regular season Top 25 poll came at the conclusion of the 2002 season, when GWU finished 9-1 and just out of the FCS (then I-AA) playoffs. The Sports Network ranked GWU 18th at the end of that regular season, while the coaches ranked GWU 19th.

LEAGUE AWARDS

For the second time this season in four games, Gardner-Webb had three team members take home Big South Conference weekly honors. Quarterback Stan Doolittle (6-3, 224, Sr.) was named the league's Choice Hotels Offensive Player of the Week after a season-high 301 yards passing; Safety Darren Rogers (6-1, 215, Sr.) earned Defensive Player of the Week honors after six tackles and a touchdown-saving interception in the fourth quarter; and Matt Goods (6-2, 285, Fr.) earned his third Freshman of the Week award after making six tackles and recovering a fumble that led to Gardner-Webb's game-winning drive in the fourth quarter.
